CHOICE BULBS of

SPECIAL MERIT

Your Order for Bulbs

IF you desire to obtain the best possible results it is essential to select only top-size quality of bulbs.

Flowering bulbs are graded in Holland, usually as No. 1, No. 2, No. 3, and Top-Size.

The first named is planting stock to be grown into commercial size; the second are offered to those considering price as the only objective. No. 3 is the size usually supplied to the seed and florist trade, and lastly the Top-Size, the cream of the crop, demanded by and supplied to the most critical seed trade. For this, the reliable firms catering to a special line of customers, gladly pay a premium over the wholesale prices.

We offer to a most particular clientele, Top-Size Bulbs at moderate prices, why pay more?

GUARANTEED BULBS

Assurance of satisfaction

Contrary to the usual no-guarantee condition of sale, prevailing in the seed and bulb trade, we guarantee all "Best by Test" bulbs sent out by us to be of proper flowering size, true to name and to produce satisfactory results under ordinary conditions of treatment and climate.

Having full confidence in the quality of our bulbs, we will replace, or credit any order or part of an order for bulbs supplied by us, which, in the opinion of the customer, proves unsatisfactory through any fault of ours, in no event, however, will any replacement, or credit, exceed the amount of original purchase price of the bulbs in question.

HARDY OUTDOOR LILIES

TIME OF ARRIVAL

Hardy Japanese Lily Bulbs, such as Album, Auratum, Rubrum, etc., do not reach this country until the month of December. If the bulbs are to be planted outdoors, we suggest that the ground be prepared and then covered with stable manure to prevent freezing until bulbs are planted. If this is not practical, the bulbs may be potted and carried over the Winter in frames, or may be grown in greenhouse and plunged out in desired places in the Spring.

Lilium candidum usually arrives in August and should be planted during September.

The Candidum Lily is the most popular and widely-grown white garden Lily. Unlike other Lilies which can be planted either in the Autumn or Spring, LILIUM CANDIDUM MUST BE PLANTED DURING LATE SUMMER OR AUTUMN.

The bulbs make a leaf growth during the Autumn which dies down with the approach of Winter; however, the bulbs are then in a condition to flower in Spring.

They should be planted 6 inches deep in good garden soil, and will succeed almost anywhere.

Blue Delphiniums and White Candidum Lilies make a fine contrast. Both flower at the same time.

SINGLE EARLY TULIPS

Top Size Bulbs (BY SPECIAL ARRANGEMENT) The Cream of the Crop

Single Early Tulips are ideal for outdoor bedding and edging and also useful for indoor early forcing. They flower outdoors during April, several weeks before the Darwins or Cottage. Beds or rows of early Tulips with the addition of suitable Spring flowers as ground cover, present a very attractive sight, just on the heels of departing Winter.

The letters immediately following the varieties indicate rotation of flowering time—A being the first to bloom, followed by B, and slightly later by C. However, when planted outdoors the difference in many instances is very slight.

The figures indicate height in inches—thus 11, means height 11 inches, subject to variations.
